

Conference programme (pocket edition)

Venue for sessions 1 and 2:
Assembly hall, main building of the University, Bern

Sunday, July 8, 2007

13:30–14:20 Opening ceremony

14:30–15:30 Session 1: Mapping Switzerland

- Peter Barber (United Kingdom): From Geneva to the Rigi: British maps of, and guidebooks to, Switzerland (1685–1904)
- Andreas Bürgi (Switzerland): When the Europeans learned to fly: Franz Ludwig Pfyffer and his topographic model “Relief der Urschweiz”

15:30–16:00 Coffee break

16:00–17:15 Session 2: Ferdinand Rudolf Hassler

- Martin Rickenbacher (Switzerland): Recognizing what should be done: Hassler and the survey of Switzerland 1791–1803
- Charles A. Burroughs (USA): Hassler’s early years in America and in Europe again, 1805–1815
- William A. Stanley (USA): Ferdinand Rudolph Hassler and the Survey of the Coast of the United States

18:30–21:00 Exhibition opening (Federal Office of Metrology, Wabern)

Venue for all following sessions:
UniS, Schanzeneckstrasse 1, Bern

Monday, July 9, 2007

09:00–10:45 Session 3: Colonial cartography

- Christophe Collard (Belgium): Cartography of Belgian Congo (1908–1960)
- Ana Cristina Roque, Lívia Ferrão (Portugal): Mapping Mozambique coast in the 19th century

□ Đoàn Thị Thu Hương (Vietnam), Alexei Volkov (Taiwan): Cartography in pre-colonial and early colonial Vietnam

□ Marcus Buess (Switzerland), Guy Thomas (Switzerland): Maps in the archives of the Basel Mission/mission 21: prospects of (re-)valorisation

10:45–11:15 Coffee break

11:15–12:30 Session 4: School cartography

- Bernard Huber (Switzerland): The beginning of school cartography in the French-speaking part of Switzerland (end 17th century–early 19th century)
- René Tebel (Austria): Traces of political influence in school atlases originating from German cultural background in the 19th and 20th centuries
- Nikolay N. Komedchikov (Russia): A reflection on the USSR ethnic policy in educational cartography in the 1920s–1950s: educational maps and atlases in the languages of USSR peoples

12:30–14:00 Lunch break (and free access to exhibition at State Archives of Berne)

14:00–15:45 Session 5: Digital map analysis

- Joaquim Alves Gaspar (Portugal): Portuguese nautical charts of the 16th century: a new cartographic model
- Angeliki Tsorlini (Greece): The Thessaloniki project on Ptolemy’s “Geography”
- Vassilios Tsioukas (Greece): Low-cost application for the georeferencing of historical maps
- Bernhard Jenny (Switzerland): Planimetric analysis of historical maps with MapAnalyst

15:45–16:15 Coffee break

16:15–17:30 Session 6: Military mapping

- Zsolt Török (Hungary): With the eye of the Habsburg eagle: the Angielini atlases and the multiple representations of the Habsburg-Ottoman frontier in the late 16th century
- Catherine Bousquet-Bressolier (France): Military engineer-geographers take part in physiocratic experiences: Pierre Clavaux in Arcachon Bay 1750–1776
- Gerhard L. Fasching (Austria): Military geography in the Cold War: thematic military maps of the Warsaw Pact, NATO and neutrals

19:00–20:30 Reception (Town hall)

Tuesday, July 10, 2007

08:00–10:00 Professional visits

10:00–12:30 Poster session

12:30–14:00 Lunch break (and free access to exhibition at State Archives of Berne)

14:00–15:45 Session 7: Cartographic sources I

- Christine Johnson (USA): Why a world map? Waldseemüller’s cartographic choice
- Katharina Koller-Weiss (Switzerland): Maps in scholarly letters from Southern Germany and Switzerland in the first part of the 16th century
- George S. Carhart (USA): Frederick de Wit (1630–1706): mapmaker or copyist-conveyer of maps?
- Antal András Deák (Hungary): The mapping history of Europe’s “Terra Incognita”

15:45–16:15 Coffee break

16:15–17:30 Session 8: Cartobibliography

- Matthew H. Edney (USA): Maps and “other akward materials”: critical reflections on nature and purpose of cartobibliography
- Joel Kovarsky (USA): Cartobibliography: a view from the perspectives of map dealers and collectors
- Peter van der Krogt (The Netherlands): Cartobibliography in the Netherlands: unraveling the threads of map production and map communication

18:30–20:30 Exhibition visits (Burgerbibliothek Bern and Zentralbibliothek der Universitätsbibliothek Bern)

Wednesday, July 11, 2007

09:00–10:45 Session 9: Toponymy

- Ferjan Ormeling (The Netherlands): Geographical names in the VOC atlas by Isaak de Graaf (AD 1700)
- João Carlos Garcia (Portugal): The south of Mare Oceanus: maps and geographical terms
- Iris Kantor (Brazil): From colony to nation: mapping and naming the territory of Portuguese America (1750–1825)
- Carla Lois (Argentina): The indigenous toponymy in the early Argentinean maps (1865–1886)

10:45–11:15 Coffee break

11:15–12:30 Session 10: Cartography and politics I

☐ Judit Kotte (Switzerland): Maps as a means of strategic deception: an example in Hungary (1920)

☐ Petra Svatek (Austria): Academic cartography in Vienna 1919–1945: continuities and changes

☐ Alastair W. Pearson, Mike Heffernan (United Kingdom): Cartographic ideals and geopolitical realities: the “International Map of the World” and the 1:1 million “Map of Hispanic America”

12:30–14:00 Lunch break (and free access to exhibition at State Archives of Berne)

14:00–15:45 Session 11: Early modern cartography

☐ Marcel van den Broecke (The Netherlands): Ortelius' languages

☐ Marco Petrella (Italy): The cartographic production in Burgundy in the late 18th century: the Corps des ingénieurs and the creation of new representation models

☐ Maria Pazarli (Greece): Toponymy echoes: a regional key study on 18th- and early 19th-century maps

☐ Franz Reitinger (Austria): “Géographe sans le savoir”: Voltaire's personal contribution to cartography

15:45–16:15 Coffee break

16:15–17:30 Session 12: Asian and Islamic mapping

☐ Angelo Cattaneo (Italy), Oh Gil-Sun (South Korea): “Honil kangni yŏktae kukto chi to do” (Korea, ca. 1470): study of the cosmographic structure and transcription of all place names: establishing a research agenda

☐ Koji Hasegawa (Japan): Mapping the castle towns in early modern Japan and Britain

☐ Tarek Kahlaoui (USA): On a Western Islamic school of Mediterranean navigational knowledge and mapmaking in the late medieval period (12th–16th centuries)

Thursday, July 12, 2007

08:00–10:00 Professional visits

09:00–10:45 Session 13: Medieval mapping

☐ Brigitte Englisch (Germany): Geometric projection and medieval world view

☐ Raymond Clemens (USA): The Riccardiana world map: a new taxonomy for a new mappamundi

☐ Jeffrey Jaynes (USA): Narrating religious expansion: text and image on medieval mappamundi and early modern world maps

☐ Chet Van Duzer (USA): The encircling ocean and its gulfs: medieval Latin translations of early medieval Arabic maps

10:45–11:15 Coffee break

11:15–12:30 Session 14: Cartographic sources II

☐ Kathrin Paasch (Germany): The Perthes Collection Gotha: prospects of the work with an unplumbed resource for the history of geography

☐ Bruno Schelhaas (Germany): Das «System Petermann»: kartographische Visualisierung und der geographische Wissenstransfer im 19. Jahrhundert

☐ Neil Safier (USA): The inner workings of a cartographic atelier: Jean-Baptiste Bourguignon d'Anville and the “Carte de l'Amérique méridionale” (1748)

12:30–14:00 Lunch break (and free access to exhibition at State Archives of Berne)

14:00–15:45 Session 15: Relief mapping

☐ Wouter Bracke, Marguerite Silvestre (Belgium): Contour-lines on Belgian maps: Joseph Huvenne's map of Brussels (1858) and the Établissement géographique of Philippe Vandermaelen

☐ Mark Monmonier (USA): The four shorelines of coastal cartography: from navigation tool to inundation forecast

☐ John Cloud (USA): A deeper history of the cartography of shallow waters

☐ Michael J. Ross (New Zealand): Lost knowledge or cartographic creation exploring a mystery Pacific coastline?

15:45–16:15 Coffee break

16:15–17:30 Session 16: Swiss cartography

☐ Peter F. Tschudin (Switzerland): Typometrie: eine erfolgreiche Technik zur Herstellung aktuellster Karten

☐ Jürgen Espenhorst (Germany): Cartography and painting (Switzerland as an example)

☐ Carme Montaner (Spain): From Alps to Catalonia: a transfer of relief map tradition (Leo Aegerter 1914–1924)

18:30–20:30 Exhibition visit (Swiss Alpine Museum)

Friday, July 13, 2007

09:00–10:45 Session 17: Tourist mapping

☐ James Akerman (USA): Mapping “Wonderland”: explorers, tourists, and the cartography of Yellowstone National Park

☐ Marco Iuliano (Italy): Maps as mass medium: the cartographic office of Touring Club Italiano

☐ Kory Olson (USA): Out for a drive: map discourse in the 1900 “Guide Michelin”

☐ Guillaume De Syon (USA): Mapping air travel: advertising the defeat of distance in the propeller age (1919–1959)

10:45–11:15 Coffee break

11:15–12:00 Session 18: Cartography and politics II

☐ Mark I. Choate (USA): Mapping Italians abroad: documenting emigration as the spread of language, culture and influence

☐ Ole Gade (USA): Treaty atlases and evolution of geographical-historical knowledge: a case study of the Guyanas

12:00–13:30 Lunch break

13:30–14:45 Session 19: Time in cartography

☐ Peter Collier (United Kingdom): Relief depiction on 20th-century mapping in the absence of precise height information

☐ Hans-Rudolf Egli, Philipp Flury (Switzerland): GIS-Dufour: historical maps as a base in a geographic information system

☐ Daniel Steiner, Heinz Jürg Zumbühl (Switzerland): The significance of old maps for glacier research: an exemplary study for the 1855/56–1870 period at the Unterer Grindelwald-gletscher, Switzerland

14:45–15:30 Closing ceremony

16:30–24:00 Farewell dinner on the Niesen (Bus transfer from the hotels)

Last update: June 10, 2007

With financial support of The Cogito Foundation